Chandra Asri Conducts 55 Days Scheduled Maintenance for Plant Optimization

Jakarta, 31 July 2019 - PT Chandra Asri Petrochemical Tbk (CAP), Indonesia's largest integrated petrochemical company, conducts Turnaround Maintenance (TAM), a scheduled plant maintenance starting from 1 August 2019 for 55 days.

"As a manufacturing company with complex production process, a routine maintenance is normal and needed to ensure their optimal plant performance," explained Suryandi, Director of CAP. "After TAM is completed, we will be back in operations with an addition of new 400 KTA capacity of Polyethylene and 110 KTA Polypropylene from existing plant debottlenecking that will better equip us to meet domestic demand of petrochemical products." he added. This maintenance also includes Polypropylene, Polyethylene, and Butadiene plants while Styrene Monomer plant is still operational as usual.

For this TAM will be integrated with the tie-in process (where new facilities are integrated with existing ones) and the new Polyethylene plant start-up with 400 KTA capacity. Additional capacities from both Polyethylene and Polypropylene plants are estimated to start commercially in Quarter 4 of 2019.

To support the new high tech PE plant operations and as a foundation of the company's future growth, CAP is focusing on development of human resources through trainings and recruitment of quality manpower.
